About the Organizer	As one of the WCO Asia-Pacific training centers, Shanghai Customs College has always attached great importance to international exchanges and cooperation such as training to foreigners. By the end of 2021, our school has undertaken a total of 270 foreign-related training programs, accumulatively training nearly 7,000 middle and senior customs officials at home and abroad, with participants from nearly 100 countries and regions. Under the overall planning of the "Belt and Road" strategy, Shanghai Customs College is striving to become a world-class training base for customs capacity building in countries along the "Belt and Road". The program of training to foreigners of Ministry of Commerce is an important part of the foreign-related training program of Shanghai Customs College. Under the guidance of the Training Center of Ministry of

	Commerce, and with the full support of the General Administration of China Customs, the college has undertaken training programs to foreigners of Ministry of Commerce since 2001. As of 2021, a total of 59 training programs (including 6 online programs, 49 short-term training programs in China and 4 overseas training programs) have been held, and nearly 2,000 middle and senior customs officials have been trained. All the training courses were successfully completed, and the participants rated the curriculum, teaching organization and logistics support as good or better. Among them, a number of projects, such as Seminar on Uzbekistan Customs Clearance Facilitation, Seminar on Model E-Port and Trade Facilitation Capacity Building, and Seminar on Customs Management for Developing Countries have been highly appraised by foreign parties. The leaders of relevant countries and customs expressed their gratitude to our school through letters and follow-up visits, and expressed their intention to continue to send officials with potential to our school in the future.
