THE MALAYSIAN TECHNICAL COOPERATION PROGRAMME

The Malaysian Technical Cooperation Programme (MTCP) was initiated at the First Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM) for Asia Pacific Region held in Sydney in February 1978. It was officially launched on 7th September 1980 at the 2nd CHOGRM in New Delhi, India to signify Malaysia's commitment to South-South Cooperation, in particular Technical Cooperation among Developing Countries (TCDC).

The MTCP emphasises the development of human resources through the provision of training in various areas which is essential for a country's development. These areas include diplomacy and diplomatic practices, economy, good governance, education, tourism, environment, social development, halal industry, safety and security as well as technology, among others. As of 31st December 2023, 37,815 participants from 144 recipient countries have benefited from the various programmes offered under the MTCP.

OBJECTIVES OF THE MTCP

1. To share development experiences with other developing countries;
2. To strengthen bilateral relations between Malaysia and other developing countries;
3. To promote South-South Cooperation (SSC); and
4. To promote Technical Cooperation among Developing Countries (TCDC).

SULTAN AHMAD SHAH MARITIME ACADEMY (AMSAS)

AMSAS was established to carry out the agency's functions in line with the provisions of the law as stated in Part III Section 6 (1) (g) of the Malaysian Maritime Enforcement Agency (MMEA) Act 2004 (Act 633) which is establishing and managing maritime institutions for the training of MMEA Officers. Formerly known as PPL APMM, AMSAS has been training MMEA staff since April 2005, in a residential building block for trainees temporarily loaned by the Royal Malaysian Navy (RLDM), Lumut. On 24 July 2007, the training institute moved to Bandar Indera Mahkota, Kuantan.

AMSAS was then finally shifted from a temporary building in Bandar Indera Mahkota, Kuantan to a well-equipped training centre in Sungai Ular, Gebeng, Pahang on 1 August 2011. The newly built institution is able to accommodate and train more officers due to its strategic location. On 2 March 2013, AMSAS was inaugurated by His Majesty Sultan Haji Ahmad Shah of Pahang. AMSAS is capable of training basic courses for new MMEA staff, as well as accommodating advanced courses including maritime training in the region.
