

GLOBAL HEALTH LAW AND GOVERNANCE

19 TO 23 SEPTEMBER 2022

Sponsored by the

SINGAPORE COOPERATION PROGRAMME

under the

SCP TRAINING AWARD (E-LEARNING)

Singapore Cooperation Programme

Singapore has provided technical assistance to other developing countries since the 1960s. As a country whose only resource is its people, Singapore believes that human resource development is vital for economic and social progress. Singapore itself has benefited from training provided by other countries and international organisations.

In 1992, the Singapore Cooperation Programme (SCP) was established to bring together under one framework the various technical assistance programmes offered by Singapore. Through the SCP, the range and number of training programmes were increased to share Singapore's development experience with other developing countries.

To date, over 137,000 officials from more than 180 countries, territories and intergovernmental organisations have participated in our courses and study visits. The SCP is managed by the Technical Cooperation Directorate of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Singapore.

Course Objectives

This online course is conducted under the auspices of the SCP Training Award.

In our highly interconnected and globalised world, public health challenges must be dealt with on the international level. Economic globalisation and liberalisation have generated conflicting interests between health and international trade, investment and intellectual property rights. This course will share how global health law and governance can address these challenges.

- Actors, legal instruments and institutions in global health;
- Regulation and governance in health security and pandemics;
- Access to medicines and vaccines;
- Environment law and investment law in relation to global health; and
- Non-communicable diseases, tobacco and drug control.

Methodology

This course will be conducted in English for up to 30 participants through synchronous e-learning ('live' e-learning sessions), and could include asynchronous e-learning (self-study e.g. reading materials). There will be Q&A sessions and facilitated group discussions during the 'live' e-learning sessions.
